Like most of you, I am not quite ready to say good-by to summer, but inevitably winter will arrive, and with it a slow down of our busy summer time schedules. And although on one hand, winter may limit our flying opportunities, on the other, it gives us more time to get together and share our interest with other pilots and non-pilots alike.

At the next General Meeting on September 8th, Angie Slingluff will share with us the recent adventure of her trip to China. It promises to be both very interesting and informative. Make plans to join us for a couple of hours at Peggy’s and enjoy her slide show. Do you have an adventure to share…?

With the postponement of the Aviation North Expo, the Alaska and Mat-Su Chapters are making preparations to put on a Fall Flying Companion Seminar.....stay tuned for time and date...and be sure let anyone who might be interested know. We can always use “helpers”…so please consider lending a hand.

Until later....stay safe.

Aviation North Expo 2010 Postponed

Organizers of Aviation North Expo have decided to postpone their annual conference, originally scheduled for October 14-16, 2010.

After examining several factors including the financial situation of the industry and attendance trends, the planning committee reluctantly made the decision to delay the conference. They also plan to consider changes including other formats and the possibility of moving to a different season.

The organizing committee, which is made up of representatives from statewide aviation organizations, decided to consider redesigning the event in order to continue to address the needs of the aviation community. For the past decade ANE has provided an opportunity for the statewide general aviation community to share information, attend seminars and discuss issues. The event offers a forum for pilots, aircraft owners, mechanics and airport operators to exchange ideas, interact with the government agencies and enjoy social events.

Organizers would like your comments and feedback. Please take a moment to complete a short survey to help plot the future course of this event. Go to: http://www.aviationnorth.org/ to participate in the survey. We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause for our participants, sponsors, speakers and exhibitors.

FAA announced that pilots authorized by air traffic controllers to taxi onto runways and await takeoff clearance will be instructed to "line up and wait" rather than "position and hold," effective Sept. 30. The new terminology, which was recommended by the National Transportation Safety Board, conforms to terminology used internationally under International Civil Aviation Organization guidelines. A safety analysis conducted by FAA's Air Traffic Organization Terminal Services determined that adopting the phrase "line up and wait" will eliminate confusion, particularly among pilots who also fly overseas, and further reduce the risk of runway incursions. FAA said it will continue to emphasize that pilots are not permitted to cross any runway encountered while taxiing without explicit instructions from controllers.

Just Plain Water?

- 75% of Americans are chronically dehydrated. (Likely applies to half the world population.)
- In 37% of Americans, the thirst mechanism is so weak that it is mistaken for hunger.
- Even MILD dehydration will slow down one's metabolism as 3%. One glass of water will shut down midnight hunger pangs for almost 100% of the dieters studied in a University of Washington study.
- Lack of water, the #1 trigger of daytime fatigue.
- Preliminary research indicates that 8-10 glasses of water a day could significantly ease back and joint pain for up to 80% of sufferers.
- A mere 2% drop in body water can trigger fuzzy short-term memory, trouble with basic math, and difficulty focusing on the computer screen or on a printed page.
- Drinking 5 glasses of water daily decreases the risk of Colon cancer by 45%, plus it can slash the risk of breast cancer by 79%, and one is 50% less likely to develop bladder cancer.

Are you drinking the amount of water you should drink every day?
